INFANT MORTALITY

Infant mortality is any death to a baby before they reach their first birthday.

An infant mortality rate (IMR) is calculated by dividing the total number of infant deaths by the total number of live births per 1,000 live births.

2018 Preliminary IMR in CCBH Jurisdiction (Not Including CLE)

The leading causes of infant death include: prematurity (babies born too early), birth defects and sleep related deaths. We are working with community partners to address these causes.

CCBH is a co-lead of the Cleveland-Cuyahoga Ohio Equity Institute that worked with community members in the 44128 zip code to help reduce infant mortality by almost 70% in the past two years.

CCBH is also partnering with the First Year Cleveland initiative on several action teams to reduce racial disparities and eliminate sleep related deaths.

TOBACCO 21

Tobacco use is the leading cause of preventable death in the U.S.

The cost to our economy is approximately $300 billion.

Of all adult smokers began smoking before the age of 21.

In 2017, the City of Euclid made a strong move to support youth tobacco prevention by becoming the first city in the CCBH jurisdiction to pass Tobacco 21 legislation.

Euclid City Councilperson and Ward 3 Resident Taneika Hill was frustrated to see young people in her ward emerge from gas stations and corner stores with Black and Milds and mini-cigars.

“We owe it to our youth to create a healthy environment and protect them from dangers that they may not see.”

Our Creating Healthy Communities (CHC) program worked closely with the City of Euclid and diverse stakeholders to develop an actionable and sustainable plan. The coalition included Euclid Mayor Kirsten Holzheimer Gail, Euclid City Council members, Euclid Police Department, Euclid business owners, Euclid High School students, and the Preventing Tobacco Addiction Foundation.

Following revisions with Euclid’s law department, this collaboration ultimately resulted in the passage of a local ordinance designed to protect the interests of thousands of 18-21 year olds and also the 48,000 residents of Euclid.

The success of the Tobacco 21 program in Euclid has catalyzed similar efforts in other cities including Brooklyn, Cleveland Heights, Lakewood and University Heights.

The Ryan White HIV/AIDS Part A program provides HIV-related services for those who do not have sufficient health care coverage or financial resources for coping with HIV. CCBH serves as the Administrator of the Cleveland Transitional Grant Area (TGA) which serves Cuyahoga, Ashtabula, Geauga, Lake, Lorain, and Medina counties.

The mission of the Cuyahoga Regional HIV Health Services Ryan White Planning Council is to plan for the comprehensive delivery of HIV/AIDS services and allocation of resources for the TGA. The goal of the Planning Council is to identify HIV positive individuals, see that they are linked into care, stay in care and to improve their health outcomes.

A primary objective of care is to keep a person’s viral load suppressed using antiretroviral therapy. People living with HIV can feel confident that if they have an undetectable viral load and take their medications as prescribed, they will not pass on HIV to sexual partners.

A report released by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) showed that participants in the Ryan White program were virally suppressed at a rate of 86% during 2017, compared to the national average of 59.8%.

FY2017 Cleveland TGA Care Continuum
